

- loves reading books
- loves writing tales
- -likes being in places like full of trees and water
- always thinks how could we improve what we have, how to stop war, how to help people in poverty, because after all we are human beings